Alpha & National Office Systems Unveil New Collaboration

Alpha Professional Solutions, Inc. (APS) is a minority-owned, privately held Philadelphia based, diversified enterprise operating in office supplies, document management, lighting and glass management solutions, technology and integration, commercial furniture and flooring products industry. National Office Systems, Inc. (NOS) provides affordable and comprehensive storage solutions for information and space management. These solutions provide convenience along with security and sustainability while leveraging client information and governance. NOS company headquarters is Beltsville, Md.

These two companies have created a business collaboration that benefits numerous industries such as Healthcare, Education/Universities, Construction and Federal/State/Local governments. The collaboration will afford clients with access to innovative ways to control company information, assets and documents while meeting company needs for commercial furniture, supplies, lighting/Electrical Supplies and Professional Services. Using state-of-the-art RFID technology, customers can track and control assets, reduce costly and timely efforts to management inventory, as well as know where an asset is physically located. As an example the current pandemic of COVID-19, organizations find themselves in need to identify and track the whereabouts of people who have come-in contact with others affected by COVID-19. The NOS RFID pandemic tracking technology is the most sophisticated solution available today.
